Project Dashabhujja 06

On 21st September 2025, the auspicious day of Mahalaya, the Sonarpur Mondalpara Youth Organization (S.M.P.Y.O) carried out various social welfare activities in the remote Dariya area of Canning. The team distributed clothes and sanitary pads and conducted awareness programs focused on women's health and empowerment. A key objective was to encourage self-reliance among women, with plans to extend similar initiatives to other marginalized villages in the future. As the program ended, members returned home with a sense of fulfillment, reflecting on their shared social responsibility. Grateful for the support received, S.M.P.Y.O reaffirmed its commitment to continue working for the underprivileged and upholding these meaningful efforts in the days ahead.

Sports Scholarship for a Student

12

Our NGO is proud to award a one-year Future of Sports Scholarship worth Rs. 5000 to a talented girl, Syeda Nigar Tabassum, from Burdwan district. She is the U11 and U13 Women's Table Tennis Champion, and despite her exceptional achievements, her family is currently facing financial difficulties.

Along with supporting her sports journey, we are also helping her continue her studies. She is a Class 9 ICSE student and needs academic support. We have arranged a physics teacher for her, and we are now looking for volunteers to teach Chemistry, Biology, or Mathematics online. The number of classes and timing can be decided by the teacher.

Project Koutohol

On 14 September 2024, SMPYO organized a special science exhibition titled Project Koutuhol, designed exclusively for underprivileged children to explore the fun and curiosity of science. The event began with an engaging science quiz for students from Classes 2 to 8, followed by a series of interactive models and hands-on experiments. Activities such as the soda-and-Mentos reaction, loop circuit demonstrations, and salt-water experiments helped spark scientific curiosity and encouraged experiential learning. The exhibition proved that education and creativity should be accessible to every child, regardless of background. Supported wholeheartedly by our partner NGO Lolark and its editor, Chumki Ghosh, and led effectively by Abhrajit Majumdar, the event successfully inspired young minds and promoted a love for science within the community.

Project Notun Alor Pothe

15

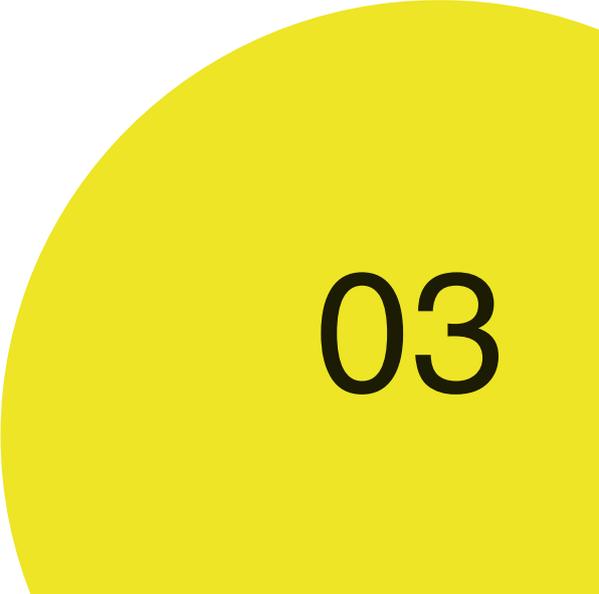

On 20 September 2024, SMPYO launched the first survey for its new initiative, Project Notun Alo, in the Madarat Bottala area of Baruipur. This project aims to promote education among children from low-income families and provide them with skill-based training in areas such as spoken English, basic computer literacy, and creative art forms. During the survey, children enthusiastically shared their dreams—ranging from becoming pilots, chefs, soldiers, makeup artists, and police officers—revealing their curiosity and ambition. The findings also highlighted the need for additional academic support beyond regular schooling. As a next step, SMPYO plans to hold discussions with parents and students and arrange free online or offline classes to help these children pursue their goals. The initiative has already generated strong excitement among local residents, especially the students.

Thalassemia Awareness Campaign

Our Thalassemia Awareness Campaign at The Prasadpur Bhagyadhar Vidyaniketan (HS) focused on educating young students about the risks, causes, and long-term impact of thalassemia on families. Through an engaging and interactive session, students actively participated, asked thoughtful questions, and demonstrated a genuine desire to understand preventive measures and early screening practices. This initiative helped build awareness at a crucial age, empowering adolescents to make informed health decisions for themselves and their families. The program was made successful through the dedicated efforts of SMPYO members, volunteers, and the valuable guidance of Mr. Biswanath Mondal, whose expertise strengthened the session's credibility. The campaign reinforced our commitment to promoting preventive healthcare and creating healthier communities.
